Sensitive Subjects

As partners in the foster care or adoption team, you may find that the special circumstances of the child placed in your home will require that you talk with the child or child welfare workers about what we call “sensitive subjects.” These sensitive subjects concern things about which people don’t often talk. In foster care and adoption work, these sensitive subjects may be adult separation, divorce, death, sexual issues including sexual abuse, mental illness, angry emotions, sad emotions, and use of alcohol or drugs. Because we are making a very important decision together about your family’s fostering or adopting, we will be discussing subjects that often are not discussed outside the family. We don’t want to offend you or make you feel uncomfortable, but we do need to know in order to help you and us in the decision-making process. With this explanation in mind, then, please answer the questions in the Profile as openly and honestly as you can. Thank you.

Release of Information

I (We) hereby authorize the release of any information including legal, social, psychological, medical, financial, and educational requested by Eckerd to be utilized in determining or re-determining my (our) suitability to be a foster parent, adoptive parent, baby-sitter, or adult household member in a foster home.

I (We) hereby grant permission to Eckerd to obtain information from local, state, or federal law enforcement agencies to help determine or re-determine my (our) suitability to serve as a foster parent, adult household member in a foster home, or extended overnight caregiver. I (we) understand, however, that a history of arrest reported by any of these agencies will not necessarily prohibit my (our) participation in the foster care program.

Pursuant to Florida Statute 39.202(2)(a)5, I (we) hereby authorize Eckerd to make inquiry of the central abuse registry and tracking system in regard to the existence of any confirmed report of abuse, neglect, or exploitation and the results of any investigation pursuant hereto.

I (We) hereby authorize Eckerd to share obtained information with the Department of Children and Families.

This authorization remains in effect until requested otherwise and in writing by the person(s) signed below.
